WHERE THEY PLAY TO-DAY. Danville at Richmond, Ronnoke at Lynchburg, Norfolk at Portsmonth, the cold and rain and the teams shivering and soaked and feeling a heap more like football than baseball, the Colts yesterday cleaned up Danville in the first game of the season wille in the first game of the season by the score of 2 to 0. The game was fast in spite of the weather, and hardly a fan left—and the cold and wet made good reason to do so—until the end of the eighth inning, when Panwille's prospects looked so gloomy that the tender-hearted wouldn't stay to see the final slaughter.

Revelle promised Monday that he would be in form for the first game of the season, and he kept his word to the letter. He was in form, and the of the season, and he kept his word to the letter. He was in form, and the way the Danville sluggers went down before his benders made the east bleachers howl with joy. Nine husky clouters wayed at his hard ones, and in one inning only did he fall to get the strikeout the strikeout.

Buck's Grand Opening.

Buck's Grand Opening.
Buck Hooper startled the inhabitants at the first flutter, when he landed on the first ball pitched in the season of 1910 for a drive that snuggled deep into the west bleachers before it stopped. With one-quarter of a horsepower more the ball would have gone over the fence, but the home run was saved by the ground rules, and Buck was forced to be content with two vas forced to be content with two bags.

After that clout Revelle screwed down the lid and except for one double bagger by Vinson and safeties by Gaston and Larkins there was absolutely nothing doing. When the two safeties came about things looked more then dailyons for Dichmand but Bester of the dailyons for Dichmand but Bester of the safeties came about things looked more dublous for Richmond, but Re-closed down, and the rest of the paid strict attention to the game, so that the inning closed without se-rious injury.

On the Richmond side of the score

On the Richmond side of the score board things were different. Land graff, as is his wont when in form, smashed out a beauty the first time tup, and Baker sacrificed him to second. Wallace's hit did the rest, and a large came within an age of shiping before run loomed on the horizon. Two flies prevented further scoring.

A lovely chance to score again was missed by the Colts in the third inning, when Wallace and Titman both filled safe ones beyond the diamond. The Bugs were more than on the job, however, and when the manager gracefully struck out the inning closed.

fully struck out the inning closed.

Second Run in Second. Second Run in Second.

The second run came in the second inning, when not a hit was made. Bigbie drew a base on balls, and went to third on Brown's scratch to first base. Messitt hammered at a hard strike, and manager to bunt the ball about four feet from the catcher. That individual drove it down to first base, and before it could be retuined Bigbie come home in a cloud of mud. Re-worried the local fans by a succession of three hits and three runs off Adams in the third inning, holding the lead until the sixth. A local batting rally, including a two-bagger by Gibson and five singles, then gave the locals a lead, and the game was clinched by Phillippe's two-bagger in the seventh.

The latter had succeeded Adams on the mound in the seventh, and thereafter held the to visitors to no hits.
Wilson, in making a sensational onehand catch in right field, went over on his back, and was so severely injured internally that he was taken to a hospital. The day was cold and the field wet, following a three days' rain, but several thousand enthusiasts were out to see the pennant raising and opening. The flag, when it was first hoisted up the staff, was found to be upside down, Mayor William A. Magee pitched the first ball.

DETROIT DEFEATS LOCALS

Club Flag Raised in Presence of an Enormous Crowd.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 21.—Cleveland's new baseball park was dedicated to-day, in the presence of an enormous crowd. Prior to the start of the game, the Cleveland and Detroit players, the owners of the Cleveland club, August Herrmann, chairman of the National Commission, and Ban H. Johnson, president of the American League, paraded to centre field, where the club flag was raised. Johnson then pitched the first ball, it being muffed by Herrmann, President Johnson then pitched the first ball, it being muffed by Herrmann. Presi-dents of the Detroit, Washington and Philadeiphia clubs were here. The dedication was no tauspicious for Cleveland from a baseball standpoint, as Detroit won 5 to 0. Cleveland could do but little with Willett, while De-troit bunched hits off Young in the third and seventh innings. Score:
